She also served as chairman of knitting during World War I, and has as well been chairman of Home Service and Production, continuing this year in the latter capacity.

A full report of the Camp and Hospital committee was submitted at the meeting by Mrs. Craig. Presenting a very comprehensve, over-all picture of the tremendous work accomplished by this committee, this report will be published in its entirety later.

Foothill Towns Cited for Red Cross Activity

Cucamonga, Alta Loma and Etiwanda came in for special commendation at the annual meeting of Upland Red Cross chapter today for the outstanding part played by these Foothill communities in the work of the local chapter, of which they are an integral part.

The communities were cited for their community teamwerk and enthusiastic spirit, which has done so much to make the work of the whole chapter effective and forcible.

Cucamonga and Alta Loma workers join under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. C. Beattie in doing their production work together, meeting once a week. During the past year they completed 1,000 garments, for which they do all their own cutting.

Under Mrs. William B. Hutton, the communities carry on their knitting, having completed 265 kniteed garments this past year.

Soldier in Africa Receives The News

George Wise is among the American soldiers in Africa but that is not too far away for him to receive The Upland News.

He has expressed his pleasure as well as those of his buddies in receiving a newspaper. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Wise. In the army 15 months, he is a sergeant in the ordnance department.

AUTO LICENSE PLATE SERVICE EXTENDED HERE

In response to unprecedented demand, automobile license plate application service, usually maintained for two weeks in January each year by Upland chamber of commerce and discontinued on Saturday, was resumed yesterday afternoon and will be continued for the rest of this week at least, it is announced by Secretary Howard Pierce.

Possibility that the service will be maintained by the chamber for the balance of the license period, until February 4, was intimated by President Owen Davis, when action was taken yesterday noon to extend the period this year. "I believe it offers an opportunity for the chamber of commerce to perform an unique and much-needed service for the community this year particularly," he declared, "and I think it might be well to continue for the entire license period."

License applicants continued to pour into the chamber office yesterday morning, and those who were disappointed now may return and secure their license receipts. If the period is to be continued longer than this week, announcement will be made by Friday.

In the meantime, local residents are invited to avail themselves of the opportunity to secure their licenses in Upland, and are asked to advise their friends and neighbors of the renewed period.

RADIO HOOK-UP TO FEATURE AIRFIELD

On January 23, Columbia Broadcasting system sends to Ontario Chet Huntley, who will stage a broadcast from the Ontario army air field. The program is called "The Spirit of Forty-Three" and is distributed over a coast-to-coast hook-up on some 90 stations throughout the country. The program will be on the air from 11:30 a. m. to 12:00 noon PWT and will feature three interesting occurrences in the lives of the army air corps troops stationed at the field. A surprise gas attack during the physical training period will take place under the direction of Lt. Saul Bollt, base chemical warfare service officer.

SABOTAGE RUMOR WITHOUT BASIS, POLICE DECLARE

Discovery of reported sabotage evidence unearthed in an Upland orange grove on Saturday, news of which was broadcast over metropolitan radio stations this morning, was, so far as actual sabotage potentiality was concerned, without substantiating evidence, it was said today by Chief of Police Eugene L. Mueller.

Numerous record books and cards purporting to contain data on construction details of the Boulder dam high tension line were discovered by E. E. Smith, 1163 East Seventh street, scattered in his orange grove. Turning them over to Upland police, Mr. Smith declared they had not been in his grove the day before.

COMPANY MATTER

At no time since discovery of the records have the FBI or the Upland police taken any steps in investigation of the matter, Chief Mueller said. After conferring with FBI officials by phone this morning, he declared there was no occasion for alarm. The police or FBI have not and would not enter the case, he said, as they had received assurance from Matt Hines, chief investigator for the Southern Califofrnia Edison company, that the records, though containing important information, had little value as means of sabotage.

Upland police records show that the records were turned over originally to J. E. Orsburn, Edison company representative from the Chino sub-station, who subsequentlyquently called in G. H. Moore, special investigation agent from the company office in Los Angeles. Mr. Moore informed police Saturday evening that the records contained nothing of great concern, but that the company would continue to investigate further merely for its own satisfaction to learn how they came to be where they were found.

NOTHING TO IT

"The record speaks for itself," Chief Mueller said, "there is nothing to it. It came up in a routine way, and went down in the same manner." He affirmed that there was no further investigation of the matter slated, nor were any other agencies concerned in it, outside of the Southern Califofrnia Edison company itself.

Sergeant and Mrs. Allan Smith will arrive in Upland this week from Denver, Colorado, where he is stationed as an aviation instructor. While here they will visit their parents and friends. He is the son of Mrs. W. M. Smith, 253 Ninth avenue, and she is the former Emily Draper, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Draper, 594 Laurel avenue.

NIGHT FIRING FIRES SHEDS

Ten-thousand-and-one fires glimmered and glowed throughout valley orchards through last night as citrus growers sought to ward off the season's first stalking frost responsible for the heaviest smudge since 1938.

But while 10,000 fires belched black, oily smoke into the crisp moonlight, one fire rasped through dry old outbuildings comprising part of the Lloyd M. Dickens place at Twenty-fourth street and Euclid avenue, the home of which still stands in ruins from a fire which occurred a year ago.

Smudgers, attempting to keep themselves warm, started a camp fire near an old disused chicken house on the place, and embers escaping from this fire ignited the tinder-dry building. Called at 3:30 a. m., Upland fire department responded with two booster trucks and the forestry fire station at the head of Euclid avenue sent in a standby truck.

The fire, which fairly gutted, the chicken house and spread into an adjacent building, was extinguished in about 15 minutes. Loss on the dfisused buildings was not estimated.

Red Cross Chairmanship Changes

MRS. MARY ECKERMAN

After serving as president of the Upland chapter of the Red Cross for 10 years, Mrs. Mary Eckerman retired from the position today. She insistently declined to become a candidate for re-election.

Chosen to serve in the very responsible position of president of the Upland chapter of the Red Cross, Mrs. Paul Adams was honored at the annual meeting of the chapter this morning.

City Loses Councilman Tomorrow Night; License Repeal Is Expected

Closing nearly nine months of able and conscientious service to Upland as city councilman, Paul G. Hottel will present his resignation to fellow-members of the council at the regular meeting Thursday night on the eve of his reporting for training with United States armed forces. He will report for induction Friday morning, following which he is to be assigned to officer training camp.

Councilmen disclose that no immediate action will be taken tomorrow night to select a successor to Councilman Hottel, but that the matter will be taken up in due course.

EXPECT LICENSE REPEAL

Packed with intense interest, the matter of the projected repeal of the present city license required of wholesalers will come up for action tomorrow night. Proposed at the last meeting of the city council by Councilman Hottel, indications today are that the repeal will be voted.

Whether or not permanent repeal will be effected at this time cannot be predicted definitely reliable sources disclose. However, it is said that the measure is pretty certain of repeal for the duration at least. Such action, while being a remedy for present vital needs, will, nevertheless, leave the matter up to future city councils as to whether they desire or need to return the license to use, it is pointed out.

POLICE APPREHEND BOY BLACKOUTERS

A 13-year-old Upland boy and a 14-year-old Ontario boy have decided after conferring with Chief of Police Eugene L. Mueller that shooting out 37 Upland street lights the other night was not such great sport after all, certainly, that it was not good sportsmanship.

As a result of their evening blackout escapade, and following a conference Saturday morning with the chief of police, the boys have agreed to pay for the broken light bulbs from their own earnings, the damage amounting to around $16. In addition, during their spare time they will report to the police station for a stated period of time where they will learn the intricacies of washing and polishing police patrol cars and fire trucks and other chores.

Acting as referee, Judge Mildred R. Puckett is cooperating with police so that the case will not go to juvenile court and the records of the boys will be kept clear. Repentant of their act after police explained to them the importance of preserving all things at a time when most of America's production is devoted to the war effort, the boys readily agreed to be more careful in the future.

Reveal Jallopies Have Gone to War As 933 Car Licenses Paid In Upland

Antomobile license plate service at Upland chamber of commerce went right along breaking all previous records, 150 receipts being issued the last day, Saturday, making the third day this year to pass the highest previous total of 90 applicants for one day last year.

Evidencing increasing appreciation of the annual chamber of commerce service, Upland residents this year made license applications for 933 cars, an increase of 104 cars over the total of 829 for the 1942 period.

INCREASE 12 PER CENT

Total collections for license fees this year amounted to $6,390, compared with $5,820 for last year. While license applications increased a little more than 12 per cent, license fees, on the other hand, increased but a little more than 9 per cent.

This is readily explained by the fact that there were no late model cars, no fees this year running above $15 per car, while last year many licenses ran as high as $25 and $26.

MORE OWN LATE MODELS

However, at the same time it is interesting to note that the average per car license fee paid this year was but 18 cents lower than the average last year, $6.85 this year against $7.03 for 1942, a decrease but a little over two per cent, indicating that jallopies have gone to war and that late model used cars have moved from sales lots into the hands of defense workers.

With the aid of Officer Louis E. Kronmeyer of the California highway patrol, license applications and fees have been shuttled to the division office in San Bernardino and receipts have been returned to the chamber of commerce here for owners to pick up. It will be appreciated by the chamber if applicants will call for their receipts as soon as possible.

In proof of the public response to the license service, Mrs. Frank C. Wiley, assistant secretary of the chamber of commerce, in charge, states that more appreciation was expressed than ever before, and likewise, fewer complaints were made. Throughout the license period, which proved to be extremely heavy, Mrs. Wiley was assisted by Mrs. Charles F. Ayres, who took care of routine chamber business.

Caul Dodson, manager of the San Bernardino office, has expressed keen appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered to his office by Upland chamber of commerce and Mrs. Wiley.

NO CHANGE SEEN IN TEMPERATURE HERE FOR TONIGHT

Orchard heaters, generally idle for several seasons, were summoned into use throughout the citrus district early today.

While minimum temperatures varied in Upland, the average low was placed at "about 25 degrees". Some heaters were warmed up by midnight, but general firing did not start until about 2 a. m. Many heaters, shooting out their red-hot flames, were kept burning until 8 o'clock. A large number of growers, however, began to close down the heaters prior to that time.

About the same temperatures are forecast for tonight and tomorrow morning by Floyd D. Young, U. S. weather bureau official. He made the forecast at noon today. In his 8 p.m. forecast over the radio last night he forecast the Upland temperature at 27 degrees.

Smudging crews were made up of many Chaffey students, local citizens, who were pressed into service for the emergency. Approximately 200 high school students were not in school today because of their work with orchard heaters during the early morning.

Dr. Aita Is Named Director of Large Hospital Service

Dr. A. A. Aita has been elected a director of the Associated Hospital service of Southern California. Chosen to fill a vacancy, Dr. Aita will represent the rural hospitals of the southland in helping direct the cooperative hospital plan.

The superintendent of the San Antonio Community hospital is one of seven directors on the board to handle the organization. Several hundred Uplanders belong to the associated hospital service.

Dr. Aita has also been named vice-president of the Hospital Council of Southern California to succeed Dr. A. E. Hodgeman of San Diego.

Pre-Flight Class To Start At Chaffey

The class is especially planned for the young men who have enlisted and are now waiting for their calls to service. Other people may also attend, the class to provide a review in mathematics, meterology and physics.

ROTARIANS LEARN ABOUT BEES TODAY

With honey products of bees to go with hot biscuits at their luncheon this noon, Upland Rotarians not only got a taste of unusual products of the hive, but also were initiated to the mysteries of the apiary and its busy denizens through an excellent program presented by Rotarian William Atchley, assisted by Mrs. Atchley.

Their interesting quizz program was supplemented with motion pictures depicting the work and care which are required for one of the sweetest businesses on earth, the production of honey. Pictures showed bees at work and the processing and preparation of honey and allied products.

Samples of cookies and confections made with honey as well as honey butter were brought for Rotarians to sample.

Rotarian Paul Hottel, who departs on Friday to enter army service, attended his last meeting this noon, and was given an official Rotary send-off by President E. Tweed Stone.

President E. Tweed Stone presided.

Upland Civilian Defense Weathers Experts' Visit

COAST CD TRAINERS KEENLY INTERESTED IN UPLAND WORKOUT

Upland Civilian Defense workers lay no claim to "pitching" a "no run, no hit, no error" incident drill last night, but from pronouncements of army civilian defense educators who observed the drill indications were sufficient that "they came, they saw and they were impressed" with a performance which hit the gong in their estimation.

"I am glad to see the interest and efficiency shown by all who took part in the drill," declared Col. M. E. Jennings, head of the war department civilian defense training school at Occidental college, who was present with his staff.

PROVES WORKABILITY

"From what I have seen of your drill in control center, I am convinced that the civilian defense plan is going to work," said Capt. J. A. Latimer.

Capt. G. S. Chittick, who is officer in charge of control center training at the war department school, told Upland civilian defenders: "I was very much impressed by the excellent job done by the staff. Upland control center is a great credit to your organization. I have seen larger cities without as nearly as well organized and equipped center as Upland's."

KEEP UP DRILLS

But the necessity of regular and continued drill was stressed repeatedly by the visitors. "You need constant drills to always keep improving," it was pointed out by Capt. Chittick, who recommended weekly drills, possibly not for the entire organization, but at least for groups and districts. "Wardens are the keystone of civilian defense," he declared, adding that "by constant practice, they will learn the great importance of giving accurate facts so that control center will get a clear picture of each incident."

"Here we may expect and prepare for a high explosive, mass attack designed to create panic or cripple war industry," warned Capt. Latimer, "and the enemy can pick his target and his time. But," he declared emphatically, "if we keep prepared, such word is sure to reach the enemy and he may decide it is not worth while to attack.

OVERLOOK COMFORTS

"To be prepared, it takes courage and competence," he affirmed, "courage to work in the dark, as it were, to be out nights rather than comfortably at home, and competence developed by practice though one does not see the immediate need. Most of all it takes planning to develop discipline and control. It requires everyone to be on the job. It takes training and training, so that action becomes automatic.

"If civilian defense does not work," Capt. Latimer declared with great emphasis, "we may lose the war—this one and the next one, too. Therefore, the better job we do perfecting civilian defense, the less likely it is we will have to use it. If we are well prepared to protect ourselves against bombing, the enemy probably will not be nearly so likely to try it," he concluded.

GOOD INSURANCE

Major Lassells, in concluding his remarks, said: "Many people say 'Civilian defense costs money; what will we do with it when the war is over ' The army might answer: 'Well, we will have cannon and machine guns left; what shall we do with these?' It is all like having automobile insurance and no wreck. But if anything does happen, it is certainly good to have it and be ready!"

HITS COMPLACENCY

"People get too complacent," was the very serious warning

Food Fund At $15 Figure This Week As $25 Awarded

The food fund is at the $15 mark again.

Mrs. Claude A. Owen, 47 D street, wouldn't let it get any larger. She won the $25 offered last week; thus the fund is at the starting point again.

Like many other women in the Upland district, Mrs. Owen purchased food during the middle of the week at one of the stores advertising in The News on Tuesday. Her address was selected from The News' residential directory.

The $15 will be offered Thursday at 6:30 p. m. To qualify persons must have made food purchases totaling at least $1 at one or more of the food stores advertising in today's Upland News. The purchase must be made either Wednesday or Thursday.

$143 JACK POT REMAINS INTACT

Saturday just wasn't one of those days that Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Richert of Alta Loma did their shopping in Upland.

Consequently yesterday just wasn't their lucky day. Well, they did get $1 all for nothing, but they might have gotten $143.

The $1 was awarded as a consolation gift.

REGISTRATION OPEN FOR NURSES AIDES

Registrations for the nurse aids and hospital service class made last evening at San Antonio Community hospital and the prospective registrants practically assure the opening of the course at Chaffey, it was stated at the hospital this morning.

Registering last evening under the direction of Mrs. John H. Hooval, president of the Hospital Woman's Auxiliary, the sponsoring organization, 16 women signified their willingness to aid in war activities by preparing themselves to serve at the hospital in time of emergency of any kind.

A six weeks course to prepare the women to serve as nurses' aides will be given at Chaffey, with classes meeting twice each week.

The hospital, through the Woman's Auxiliary, is endeavoring to create a "reserve supply" of women who will be able to assist the nurses in time of any emergency, or to aid in the dietary kitchen, the pantry, laundry, linen rooms, etc.

Registration will continue at the hospital through Thursday evening, or interested persons may call Mrs. Hooval.

Young Bigger, in company with 21 other young bluejackets, made the 2,000-foot parachute jump with 'chutes they had examined, repaired and packed as a part of their training course for the designation, parachute rigger.

Have We Forgotten About the Eat-More-Citrus Campaign?

What has happened to the campaign to get more people to use more citrus fruit here in California?

Not so many months ago, the use-more-citrus fruit idea was being pushed here and in many communities throughout California. Of course, that kind of a campaign couldn't be in the headlines and in store windows always. And besides we have a war and nothing else should matter.

The fact remains, however, that the need for pushing citrus fruit sales is still very great. There is also the fact that right now more people have more money. And tourists? Just take a glance in any southland community at the soldiers, most of them new in the state and eager to get their fill of citrus. Upland and probably every town in Southern California is crowded. New residents from far and near have come to serve their country in defense plants—and to get in on the high wages.

"What California needs is a good five-cent glass of orange juice." William Allen White, the famous editor, uttered that statement while on a visit to California a couple of years ago. If he should come again he would be right in saying that again. While something has been accomplished in recent years, the need for easily accessible orange juice and citrus fruits is just as great.

Most people are thinking of the war and the preparations for the Victory drive. Yet there is a place in California for a new drive to sell more citrus fruit to the thousands and thousands of new residents and soldiers.

Lest We Forget

When he returned a few days ago from the South Pacific, Lieutenant Commander Leo J. Stanley said something which might well be pasted up on the bulletin boards of every war factory and over every desk of every labor leader in this country.

"In the war zone where I just came from," said Commander Stanley, "every minute may be the last for thousands of soldiers, sailors and marines.

"When I come back here and find war workers wasting days and even weeks because of some penny ante dispute, I don't need to tell you I am disheartened."

Lest we forget the sacred trust that we owe the fighting men of America, it is well that we have men, returning from the battle zone, who speak out bluntly against those at home who trifle with the lives of our boys in the service. The man who walks out on strike today blasts the life out of some American soldier he has left defenseless against our enemies. And that's something the wives and fathers and mothers of those boys will never forgive nor forget.

Notes of Society

Local Business Women Attend District Conference

Without having made any attempt to capture the honor, the Upland Business and Professional Women's club won the attendance prize at the Southern District mid-winter conference held over the week-end at Arrowhead Springs hotel. Attendance records are computed on the percentage to membership basis and the Upland club sent up a delegation of 10 members. The prize was $5 worth of defense stamps, which will be added to the book the club is filling.

The San Bernardino County Council was the hostess organization, with each local club performing some part in offering the county's hospitality to the several scores of visitors. The program folders were provided by the Ontario club, Mrs. Ona Green, president, and the badges were supplied by the Upland club, Mrs. Douglas Black, president.

The conference opened Saturday afternoon with an executive board session and in the evening a dinner and program were featured.

Mrs. Una R. Winter, of the Upland club and a past president of the Southern District Federation, was in attendance, and she repeated the collect at the dinner session. The evening speaker was Katharine Adams Stoll, a successful attorney of Los Angeles.

Others in the group from the Upland club motored up to the hotel Sunday morning in time for the 9 o'clock breakfast and the program.

The speaker at the morning session was Madame Vicente Lim, wife of Brigadier General Lim and one of the foremost women of the Philippine Islands.

Madame Lim, a fluent speaker with a remarkable command of the English language, announced her topic as "My Country and the Heroes of Corregidor". She told of the staunch support given the American forces in the Philippines and warmly approved the policy of the United States in dealing with the islands during the past 40 years.

Upland club women attending the convention were Mrs. Douglas Black, Mrs. Winter, Mrs. W. A. Gilliland, Mrs. M. H. Bailey, Miss Olive Wilkowske, Mrs. Harry Plum, Mrs. E. Tweed Stone, Mrs. Eva G. Moore, Miss Elizabeth Wright and Miss Hester MacKay.

Installation ceremony will begin at about 2:30 and will be open to visitors. Guests from neighboring corps and from other patriotic orders, and friends of the group will attend the installation.

Cucamonga, Alta Loma Club Women Told Of Hawaii

Members of the Cucamonga-Alta Loma Woman's club were told many interesting things about the Hawaiian Islands when Mrs. Edith S. Troeller of Upland spoke at the meeting of the club held at the home of Mrs. Clifford S. Beekman, 844 East Base Line, Alta Loma.

The opening business session was conducted by the club president, Mrs. L. J. Thomas. Plans were made for the club members and their husbands to visit the Kaiser steel mills and Mrs. E. S. Bishop, the club secretary, was requested to make the necessary arrangements for the tour.

This and the coming week were set aside as the time for the annual sewing for San Antonio Community hospital and a call was made for volunteers to do this work.

Plans also were made for the next meeting of the club, which will be held jointly with the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Cucamonga Community Methodist church, on the first Thursday in February.

Potted plants were ordered sent with the club's sympathy to Mrs. Mary Minor and Mrs. Leslie L. Foster, two valued members of the club, who have been ill for some time.

Presented by Mrs. John D. MacPherson, Mrs. Troeller first gave a description of the topography and geography of the islands. Showing a large map of the group, she told of their geological formations and noted the volcanoes, extinct and active, including the famous Kilauea, the largest active volcano crater in the world.

Mrs. Troeller taught school in Hawaii for 20 years and she told something of the school system and of the family life of the natives.

Of special interest to the club women was Mrs. Troeller's display of Hawaiian handiwork, including colorful leis and other articles made of peacock feathers; unique jewelry fashioned of tiny shells and articles of fabric clothing, baskets, etc.

At the conclusion of the address several records of Hawaiian music were played by Mrs. Clarence Beekman.

The program was followed by a tea hour, with Mrs. Clarence Beekman presiding at the tea table.

As-We-Like-It Club Reviews New Book On Alaska

A new book that is making Americans Alaska conscious, "Alaska Under Arms" by Jean Potter, was reviewed by Mrs. Leon Durham during the meeting held Saturday by the As-We-Like-It club.

The members gathered at the home of Mrs. E. A. Magill, 901 West Sixth street, Ontario, and during the noon hour luncheon was served by the hostess committee, which included Mrs. Magill, Mrs. Edith S. Troeller, Mrs. Jeannette Whitmer, Mrs. Leon Durham and Miss Sinabel Hart.

The club is enjoying a series of studies of Alaska and the program Saturday was provided by Mrs. Durham in her book review.

When the menacing guns of Japan were openly pointed at the United States, the strategic position of Alaska immediately gained attention. Shortly after the outbreak of war Fortune magazine sent Jean Potter, newspaper woman, to "cover" Alaska. So thoroughly did Miss Potter accomplish her assignment that her book is crammed with authentic information concerning that northernmost territory.

The geography and topography of the country are well covered, as are its climate, its industries, and its people.

Miss Potter visited the larger towns and government projects and many out-of-the-way villages, where she talked with government officials, merchants, mine operators, and the miners themselves. Alaskans, the author says, are solidly behind the war operations, giving all support possible, and they are particularly gratified by the long delayed attention now being given their territory by the government.

Mrs. Durham's review was followed by an open discussion by the members, as they told of some bits of information they had read, or expressed opinions and advanced theories concerning the facts given in the book.

Present for the luncheon session were Mrs. H. W. Hawkinson, Mrs. Ashby Powell, Mrs. Frank M. Baxter, Mrs. Mary Eckerman, Mrs. Etta Johnston, Mrs. C. K. Francisco, Miss Bertha Palmer, Mrs. Edith Crane, Mrs. Lansing T. Vedder, Mrs. F. W. Palmer, Mrs. V. H. Wilson and the five hostesses.

FRESH PRODUCE IS PLENTIFUL at your Safeway

Government authorities have asked us to use lots of fresh fruits and vegetables in our daily diets. The reason is two-fold. These fresh foods contain a wealth of vitamins, minerals, and other essentials that are needed to build a strong America by keeping Americans healthy. Then too, far less vital war materials are used in bringing fresh produce to your table.

PEO Chapter Conducts Founders Program At Meeting

Commemorating the founding of the P.E.O. Sisterhood 74 years ago, members of Chapter DV held their annual Founders' day program during the meeting conducted last evening at the home of Miss Winnie Catherall, 423 North Cherry avenue, Ontario.

Taking the place of the usual Founder's day program, an impressive candle-lighting ceremony was held. In the year 1869 seven girls attending Iowa Wesleyan college at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, organized the P.E.O. Sisterhood and that small group has expanded until at the present time there are 60,000 members in the United States, Canada and Hawaii.

Honoring those seven girls, Mrs. McQuatters lighted seven candles in the Founders day ceremony and other members of the chapter gave bits of interesting information about P.E.O.

The meeting was concluded with a social hour and light refreshments were served.

Guests present were Mrs. Mabel Nissley, Mrs. Hime and Mrs. Saylor, and the members present were Mrs. Ralph M. Myers, Mrs. V. H. Wilson, Mrs. Abbie Withey, Mrs. F. H. Wallihan, Mrs. G. E. McQuatters, Mrs. W. W. Majors, Mrs. E. K. Pitman, Mrs. F. W. Jones, Mrs. Mary Eckerman, Mrs E. G. Chaffee, Mrs. E. G. Blackert, Mrs. T. Melvin Lee, Mrs. Walter Dyer and Miss Catherall.

Substitute foods and meatless dishes, something every housewife must become familiar with during the coming months—and perhaps years—will be studied in a nutrition class to be sponsored by the Alta Loma Parent-Teacher association.

The class will be conducted in the Alta Loma school house and the initial meeting will be held Thursday evening, beginning at 7:30. At that session the group will determine the most convenient time of meeting.

A nutrition instructor from Chaffey will be the class teacher and in order to secure the Chaffey teacher the class must have an enrollment of at least 15 members.

In view of the shortage of many food items, it is essential that those who have the responsibility of preparing food for the family should know the values of the foods that may be secured, it is pointed out by the P.-T. A. members, and a large attendance at the class meetings is strongly urged.

Dickson and Choir Promise Splendid Music Combination

In a concert long to be remembered, Donald Dickson, one of the nation's most brilliant soloist, will appear in the Chaffey auditorium tonight.

An outstanding program will be offered and one feature of the evening will be his appearance with the Chaffey Symphonic choir.

Indications today point to a large audience for this, the second in the Civic concert series.

AID FOR SERVICEMEN

Red Cross Chairman Davis reports more than 318,000 members of the United States armed forces asked the Red Cross for assistance in personal and family relations during the seven months ending January 31, 1942, an increase of 638 per cent over the same period of the previous year. Money lent without interest to servicemen, mostly in small amounts for emergency purposes, totaled more than $600,000 during the seven month period.

VALUES OF BLOOD PLASMA DISCUSSED

An explanation of the volunteer nurse aides and hospital service plan and an enlightening discussion of the value and uses of blood plasma held the attention of the unusually large number of women who gathered Monday afternoon in the hospital library for the January meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of San Antonio Community hospital.

Mrs. John H. Hooval, Auxiliary president, conducted the meeting and explained the details of the plan adopted by the hospital to insure sufficient help to operate efficiently in time of any major disaster, resulting either from the war, the elements of nature or a disease epidemic.

Sponsored by the hospital and taught by physicians and nurses, a class for volunteer nurse aides will be conducted at Chaffey for those who could be available in time of urgent need. The class will be in session for five weeks, meeting probably three times a week.

The hospital also is endeavoring to list all women who would be able to assist in the dietary kitchen, in the linen room and the laundry, and to help with the tray serving.

These volunteer services are needed, Mrs. Hooval pointed out, because a number of West End nurses and hospital employes have gone into the armed services and because of the increased possibility of emergencies arising.

Dr. A. A. Aita, hospital superintendent, also spoke briefly concerning the volunteer service plan.

Presented by Dr. Aita, the afternoon speaker, Lieut. Richard W. Cragg of the U. S. naval medical corps, gave statistics to show the almost startling results being obtained by the use of blood plasma in treating wounded men in the present war. The lives of many men are being saved, he pointed out, because thousands of civilians, the "soldiers on the home front, have given their blood to accumulate a vast supply of plasma, which can be preserved and shipped to any battlefield.

The giving of a reasonably amount of blood by a normal man or woman does not injure the donor, Lieutenant Cragg stated in urging all healthy adults to keep an ever increasing supply flowing into the blood plasma banks.

Alien Roundup Nets Small Enemy Army With Good Arsenal

FBI Director Edgar G. Hoover reposts since January 8, 1942, that the FBI has searched the premises of more than 8,000 German, Italian and Japanese nationals and has apprehended approximately 2,400 for possession of contraband materials.

Among the articles seized by the FBI in making "spot checks" of alien enemy residences were 1,500 guns; 156,770 rounds of ammunition; 1,200 radio sets; large quantities of photographic equipment, including 1,311 cameras and 44 camera lenses; maps and photographs, including charts of the Panama Canal, San Francisco Bay and New York harbor; Japanese, German and Italian army and navy uniforms; dynamite, dynamite caps and dynamite fuses; gunpowder and sulphuric acid; 820 swords, dirks, daggers, machetes and sabers.

CARBON MONOXIDE OVERCOMES CHILD

Timely assistance and first aid administered by Upland police shortly before 5 p. m. Saturday effected the recovery of Gwendolyn Wedgewood, 7, when she succumbed to carbon monoxide gas poisoning while riding in a car with her grandmother, Mrs. Emily Wedgewood.

A passenger with her brother, Joseph, 3, and sister Vivian, 5, Gwendolyn was overcome by the car fumes as they were enroute up Mountain avenue near Sixteenth street, to the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wedgewood, Twenty-fifth street and Electric avenue. The two younger children were overcome to a slighter degree, but did not lose consciousness as a result of fumes entering the car, the windows of which were said to have been closed while driving.

Plight of the family was discovered by City Manager R. G. Manley, returning from the Heights, and who notified Officers Henry Younge and Albert Bolsta, whom he met on patrol. Hurrying to the scene, Officer Bolsta immediately administered first aid artificial respiration, bringing Gwendolyn out of unconsciousness in a short time, so that she was able to continue her journey home.

35 GARDENERS IN CHAFFEY COURSE

Thirty-five gardeners who want to learn more about the art of producing their own food, met in room 16 in the Chaffey junior college auditorium last night.

While most people are at least gardeners after a fashion, the group heard from an expert how much seed it takes for 100 feet and other valuable data. Clarence Calhoun is the instructor in charge. The class will convene every week at 7:30 p. m. for seven weeks.

Additional persons may attend and the importance of producing fresh vegetables is widely recognized.

A wife is a person who permits her husband to sit all evening in his comfortable fireside chair without asking him even once to get up and close a door, look at the furnace, find out what "that noise" was or do anything else. Now, you tell one.

"On Right Track" Captain Says of Control Center

"It has been a pleasure to witness your serious endeavor," Capt. G. S. Chittick told Upland civilian defense control center at the conclusion of last night's incident drill.

"Many things you have done well," he said. "Your use of maps to facilitate operations is good, and they are of the proper sort. The general trend of your drill shows that you are on the right track."

He also commended plans of City Manager R. G. Manley to carry the intake of the city hall ventilating system to the top of the building to better sustain forced ventilation and protection against gas attack. Recommendations made by him to improve operation and insure protection included a division of fire and police vehicles so that all might not be lost in a single bomb strike, as all eggs in one basket; also a division of public works into utilities and public works under two heads instead of one.

"On the whole, your setup basically is very sound," he said. "One thing, your State Guard is on its toes. I have seldom seen a place so well guarded and as difficult to get into."

DEFENSE LEADERS PRAISE WORK HERE

spoken by Major Lassell, "when the United States takes three square miles of Quadalcanal." Backing up his statement was the reminder that in the first six months following Pearl Harbor, the United Nations lost 6,000,000 square miles of territory to the enemy, and since that time have regained but less than one-half of one per cent.

Col. Jennings and his staff were introduced to the meeting of civilian defense personnel which was held in Upland Elementary school auditorium following the drill by Chief of Police E. L. Mueller. Other members of the colonel's group who spoke briefly included Capt. E. R. Brolin and Lt. M. S. Schott.

COLD CUTS RANKS

Although drill attendance suffered from the cold, imminent smudging operations taking away a large number of workers, Upland was as thoroughly bombed, fired and plunged into general havoc attending the incidents as usual. Emergency vehicles in general functioned effectively, avoiding common pitfalls of the past such as bomb craters, and on the whole responses were prompt. In all, 16 incidents were carried out.

Additional aides assisting control center were Mrs. James Paulin, dispatching first aid; Mrs. Paul Adams, representing the Red Cross, and Mrs. Mildred Puckett, assisting with checking. Chief of Police C. F. Robberson of Ontario was a guest observer.

Closing the assembly at the school auditorium, the visiting army men were presented with a box of Upland oranges.

Heard and Seen— Or, "Murder Will Out" In Control

Things will crop out at defense meetings. Some among them last night were:

Major Lassells admitting it is cold in Southern California—at least last night! The major said he had heard of a food shortage, but after eating dinner in Upland, he knew where all the beef was!

Change recommended by Capt. Chittick: Giving the beautiful young lady in communications a little privacy and protection from the clustering messenger boys.

Capt. Latimer giving Sergt. Hebblethwaite moral support re: Major Lassells' driving, the latter maintaining the liberality of Pennsylvania regulation of drivers.

A typical small boy, investigated in the East, had 29 articles in his pockets. We say typical as there was no handkerchief.

Along with all else, etiquette has suffered a war change. In his new chivalry, a fellow gets up and gives a lady his seat at a lathe.

"Business NOT as usual"

With thousands of war workers and other folks who are saving tires riding on our lines, our business is decidedly not as usual—especially during the rush hours.

Although the supply of materials and new transit vehicles is limited because of the war, we'll do our best to "keep 'em rolling" and give you as good, safe and dependable transportation as possible.

The rush hours will be crowded, but there's room for many between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. You'll find more comfort by riding during the "off-peak" hours whenever you possibly can.

WE WILL DO OUR UTMOST

TO MEET the increasing demands for riding;
OPERATE in the rush hours every vehicle that can be run;
TRANSPORT defense and other workers to their jobs, making this our primary task, even though some other riders may be inconvenienced;
RUN MORE SERVICE during the midday and evening as needed for those who can avoid riding in the rush hours;
COOPERATE to the fullest with defense and traffic authorities to keep the streets clear and to move people with such regularity and speed as is possible;
CONSERVE scarce materials by continuing to develop and use the most efficient methods of operation, maintenance and salvage.
